

LARGE DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Further Returns of the Elections for County Offices in the State.

A WALK-OVER IN MANY COUNTIES.

Portions of the "Black Belt" Redeemed. Republicans Generally Ousted. The Latest Results.

PETERSBURG, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The returns of yesterday's election are coming in very slow from the adjacent counties. Among the county officers elected in Prince George county are W. E. Boisseau (Democrat), sheriff; R. T. Daniel (Democrat), treasurer; E. R. Brown (colored Republican), commissioner of revenue; R. B. Wilcox (Republican), Commonwealth's attorney. Mr. Boisseau was elected sheriff by a majority of only four.

It is learned from a gentleman who arrived here this morning that the Republicans have carried Sussex county, and that Jarrett is elected treasurer and Grizzard sheriff.

Southampton county is said to have gone solid for the Democrats. The Democratic candidates in this county are: For Treasurer, James Jordan; for Sheriff, J. W. Williams; for Commonwealth's Attorney, William Shadock; for Commissioner of Revenue, district No. 1, R. D. Edwards; district No. 2, J. Gillett. New Hope precinct, Dinwiddie county, gives a Democratic majority of 45. White Oak precinct, 52. Democratic majority in White Oak district gives a Democratic majority in the county as does also Dinwiddie County and Darville's.

The following is the vote in Dinwiddie county: For Sheriff, W. H. Young, 953; B. H. Hagsdale, 697. For Commonwealth's Attorney, J. I. Harris, 974; A. T. Powell, 598. For Commissioner of Revenue, First district, G. W. Barker, 943; C. E. Abernathy, 632. Second district, J. O. Perkins, 979; J. A. Lee, 603. For Treasurer, W. W. Field, 1,283; S. J. Gilliam, 155. For Supervisor, present incumbent, P. W. Lashop, present incumbent, Spony district, J. T. Duane, present incumbent; Rowan district, John P. Tucker, present incumbent; R. W. Ritchie, present incumbent; and S. M. Falconer, for the same office, present incumbent. The official count will change the above figures but little.

RESULTS IN AMELIA.

AMELIA COUNTY, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The heavy rainfall of yesterday prevented the polling of a full vote for county officers in this county. Below is a list of those who were elected.

R. G. Southall, Democrat, present incumbent, attorney; W. T. Hughes, Republican, present incumbent, sheriff; C. R. Irving, Democrat, present incumbent, commissioner of revenue; G. K. Taylor, Republican, treasurer; M. Y. Cheatham, supervisor, Republican; Giles district, C. B. White, Republican; Jackson district, Supervisor, H. Johnson (colored), Republican; Supervisor Leigh district, Leigh Hill (colored), Republican; constable, J. J. Mann, John Archer and Crawley Dennis (colored), Republicans; justices of peace, Giles district, John Wingo (colored), Republican, overseer poor.

Thus far no official report of returns has been made, but the above is the general consensus of opinion amongst those who are informed. There was no opposition to the candidates for the office of Commonwealth's attorney or sheriff.

The recent heavy rains have very much retarded the farmers of this section in farm operations. Notwithstanding the fact that tobacco plants are abundant, but little was planted this season, as the ground was not prepared. The outlook for the wheat crop in this section is good. But little grass will be cut, as the crop was materially injured by the dry weather of six weeks ago.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY.

KEYSVILLE, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The election was very quiet. On account of the stormy weather very few were out. Below I give you the vote at this precinct.

Treasurer, Daniel, 234; sheriff, J. H. Price, 199; Marable, 43. Commonwealth's Attorney, Thomas E. Watkins, 171; William C. Carrington, 68. Commissioner of Revenue, Upper District, R. F. Hutcheson, 162; J. R. Hill, 79. Commissioner of Revenue, Lower District, D. B. Hutcheson, 185; George Chappell, 48. Constable, J. C. Watkins, 17; W. E. McNeely, 105. Justice, J. B. Faris, 169; J. D. Hankins, 215; A. G. Fowler, 157; J. C. Bowman, 154; M. Tucker, 169; Thomas Richardson, 44. Supervisor, John R. Bailey, 238.

There is no doubt of the election of Thomas E. Watkins for Commonwealth's Attorney in the place of Hon. W. H. Woods, deceased. All the candidates are Democrats.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Results of the Election in James City County and Williamsburg.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The following is the result of the election here and in James City county: H. D. Cole (Democrat), for treasurer, 262; Cyrus A. Branch, Commonwealth's attorney, 208; Ho T. Armstrong (Independent Democrat), Sheriff, 208. The Democrats made no nomination for sheriff. John M. Dawson (Republican), for treasurer, 530; A. C. Peachy (Republican), for Commonwealth's attorney, 480; George E. Richardson (Republican), for sheriff, 572. At Williamsburg there was a high vote for the Democrats, being taken by the Democrats and many of them did not show themselves at the polls. In the county the vote was quite heavy. The board of supervisors will stand one Democrat to two Republicans, a gain of one for the Democrats.

GOOCHLAND COUNTY.

All of the Old Officers Re-Elected for County Offices.

MAIDENS, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—In the election of county officers for Goochland it has been ascertained that the old officers are re-elected. R. N. Turner, treasurer, having nearly 600 majority over C. H. Powell; H. H. Hoyt, commissioner of revenue, about 200 over James Goodman; A. T. Massey, sheriff, 117 over A. Isbell, and R. D. James, Commonwealth's attorney, sixteen majority over A. N. Montero. Nothing definitely accurate will be heard until tomorrow's official count by the board of election commissioners, but the above is substantially correct. A lighter vote than usual was polled on account of the rain.

AN EXCITING CONTEST.

The Democrats of Richmond County Win the Political Victory.

WARSAW, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—One of the most exciting political contests which has taken place in this county for years was decided yesterday. The entire Democratic ticket was elected. For Commonwealth's Attorney, J. W. Chinn, Jr., was elected over J. D. Garland, present incumbent, by a majority of fifty. Jeter B. Rains was elected for sheriff over Woody M. Hall by ninety-eight majority. For Treasurer, Frank Garland was elected over F. A. Shackelford by a majority of fifty, and for Commissioner of Revenue E. L. Moring was defeated by R. J. Puller by forty-seven majority.

Straight Ticket in Halifax.

SOUTH BOSTON, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The entire Democratic ticket is elected in Halifax by 450 majority. Owing to the bad weather the vote was light. An independent ticket was run with W. B. Chandler for treasurer and Nat. Lorice for commissioner of the revenue. Both of these gentlemen submitted their claims to the Democratic convention and failed of nomination. The fear that there was a bolting ticket has created widespread indignation with all true Democrats. Had it been known earlier the Democratic majority would have been much larger.

Culpeper's Election.

CULPEPER, May 29.—[Special.]—Our election day yesterday was a steady raining one. There was no political contest, yet quite a large vote was polled. The only officers elected were Commonwealth's attorney, in which John L. Jeffries defeated John S. Harbourn by a large majority, and for commissioner of the revenue, Eastern district, T. O. Zonwiler defeated James Inskeep. In the corporation C. B. Hood was elected mayor, W. J. Shotwell, recorder, and most of the old council recorders re-elected.

King William and King Queen.

WEST POINT, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—Election passed off quietly but earnestly in King William county. R. S. Ryland (Republican), sheriff, both re-elected; Burnley Taylor (Republican) is elected commissioner of the revenue; H. J. Lewis (Democrat) is re-elected Commonwealth's attorney by an overwhelming majority over Isaac Diggs, who was run on various tickets as an Independent.

One Republican Victory.

WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—Returns from the elections come in very slowly, owing to the wet weather and the difficulty of counting the vote. Reports from all precincts now show that Harkrader, Glaves and Repass, Republican candidates for sheriff, Commonwealth's attorney and treasurer, respectively, are elected. Wash. Hudson, Democratic candidate for commissioner of the revenue for the eastern portion of the county, is probably elected.

Voted the Democratic Ticket.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The Democrats carried the county by about 200 majority at the election yesterday. Many white Republicans voted with the Democrats. The county officers elected were: Treasurer, J. M. Curtis; Clerk of Courts, J. H. Hain; Commonwealth's Attorney, E. S. Robinson; Sheriff, E. W. Milstead; Commissioner of Revenue, W. P. Ballard.

Democrats Win in York.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The entire Democratic ticket in York is elected by a large majority as follows: Sydney Smith for Commonwealth's attorney; Thomas Newman, for treasurer; Evans, for sheriff; Edward Bryant, for commissioner. This is the first straight Democratic victory for three years, and old Yorktown is being painted red to-day by a jubilant crowd of Democrats.

The "Wets" Win.

LEXINGTON, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—Returns from all the county precincts have not yet come in, but they are sufficient to show that the entire Democratic ticket from sheriff down to magistrate is elected.

In Buena Vista the people can strengthen their drink hereafter if they wish, as the "wets" carried the day yesterday by a handsome majority.

Mecklenburg Election.

CHASE CITY, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The indications are that Cogbill, Democrat, for sheriff, and Thorp, Republican, for Commonwealth's attorney, are elected. Cogbill is the first Democratic county officer elected for years. The town council, formerly "wet," has now three "drys."

Scott County Democratic.

BRISTOL, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—Excitement in the election throughout South-west Virginia runs high.

Scott county went Democratic for the first time in five years. Owing to alleged fraud in the Bristol election a contest is feared.

Cumberland County.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The following is the official election returns for this county: Coleman for Commonwealth's attorney has a majority of 217; Adams for sheriff, majority of 144; Flippen for treasurer, majority of 365.

Essex Democratic.

TAPPANNOCK, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—This county, Essex, has gone Democratic by a satisfactory majority.

SHE MARRIED ANOTHER.

How a Faithless Bride Disappointed Her Would-be Husband.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—An interesting elopement of a young couple near Rustburg, in Campbell, took place Wednesday.

The young party were Miss Florence Little and A. W. McCaw, of that neighborhood. The bride was engaged to be married to Mr. Hunt, of Pittsylvania county, and the wedding was to have taken place yesterday.

The wedding arrangements had all been made, friends invited, and Rev. R. W. Watts was on hand to perform the ceremony, but the elopement thwarted the train at Narana, gone to Roxboro, N. C., were married and returned home just after the preacher expected Groom Hunt, and all the guests had left the expected festive board. The betrayed groom still holds on to his fine suit of new wedding garments waiting for another chance.

AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY.

Its Representatives Make Large Purchases of Danville Cutters.

DANVILLE, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The American Tobacco Company has gotten in its work here and bought about 300,000 pounds of cutters. The company's representatives were B. N. Duke, of Durham; John E. Pope, of Allen & Ginter, of Richmond; William A. Marburg, of Baltimore; E. G. Schaum, buyer for Marburg at Winston, and Theo. Walker, buyer for Duke at Durham.

It is said that Messrs. N. T. Robinson, P. C. Venable & Co., George S. Hughes & Co., P. W. Ferrell & Co., Willard Holland and D. A. Overy "unloaded."

The price paid was within a fraction of twenty dollars per hundred, the same reaching between fifty and sixty thousand dollars. The sellers may have sustained some loss, but they believe themselves fortunate to get from under the load as well as they did.

The American company is now negotiating with Craddock and Parson, but at last accounts no deal had been made. Dibrill Brothers would not sell at the price offered.

Information has been received here of a fatal row which occurred at Stuart, Patrick county yesterday. It seems that "moonshine" flowed quite freely, and as a consequence, there were many knock downs and drug outs. T. G. Smith and John Maze got into a wrangle, and finally some strong words were used.

Smith says Maze applied an opprobrious epithet, to which he replied with three shots, each ball taking effect in Maze's breast, inflicting fatal wounds. Before the wounded man fell he drew a knife and plunged it into Smith, inflicting a serious but not necessarily fatal wound.

Tomorrow is a national holiday, and all the banks, factories and Government offices will be closed. Whether there will be any decorations on the Federal graves cannot be learned. The last time it was attempted it proved a failure, and there has been no public call for that purpose. No one is to be seen in the Federal posts here, no Grand Army of the Republic posts, and no colored military organizations.

THE RUMOR UNFOUNDED.

The "Crown" Not Ashore—Wreck of the Villola to be Investigated.

NORFOLK, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—The rumor that the British steamship Crown was ashore near the Horseshoe is wholly unfounded. The Board of International Underwriters will hold an investigation here to-morrow concerning the going ashore, wrecking and burning of the British bark Villola near Poyner's life-saving station, N. C. It is understood that something rotten is expected.

An excursion from Washington is expected to bring one thousand negroes here Saturday.

The board of directors of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Cotton Exchange held their monthly meeting yesterday. The recommendation of a committee favorable to establishing a uniform international standard of classification of American cotton was approved.

The city election yesterday resulted in the election of W. V. Hunter, Democrat, for treasurer without opposition. Portsmouth also went Democratic. There was comparatively no opposition there. That city elected all of her city officers.

The crew of the burned bark Villola arrived here yesterday and noted protest. Everett Gray, of the banking-house of Vivian, Gray & Co., London, and formerly of this city, died at Aix La Bain some days ago. He was largely interested in the Norfolk and Western road.

Foul Play Suspected.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 29.—[Special.]—This morning Washington Vaught and Ned Ketter were run down the Halfway creek, a tributary of the College creek, discovered the body of a man. There was no clothing except a pair of boots. They notified the Mayor, who acts as coroner.

There is every indication of foul play, as there is a large bruise on the side of the face and a wound over the right eye. The wound looks like it might have been made by a pistol ball, although this view will have to be determined by an examination with a probe. There was also a large bruise on the nose and some on the body.

The corpse has been placed in the hands of an undertaker. A regular examination will be made as to the character of the wounds and how he came to his death.

DR. KERR AND DR. PAGE.

What the Nashville (Tenn.) American Has to Say of Them.

The Daily American, of Nashville, Tenn., contains in its issue of May 25th an account of the commencement exercises of Ward's Seminary and a long extract from the commencement sermon which was preached by Dr. Robert P. Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Richmond. The American says:

"The pulpit was occupied by the pastor, Rev. Jere Witherspoon, Dr. Charles, the new president of Ward's, and the Rev. Mr. Kerr, of Richmond, Va."

"During the past thirty days Richmond has sent two brilliant men to Nashville. Thomas Nelson Page was one and the Rev. Mr. Kerr is the other. Mr. Page may be classed as a genius, or at least as an original. Mr. Kerr is a representative of the scholarship and eloquence that characterize the clergy of the Presbyterian Church. He delivered a discourse, the purpose of which was the elevation of the thought of the young minds to whom it was addressed in the manner and with the language of a man accustomed to view life, and particularly the life and destiny of woman, from a standpoint of lofty purity in a moral sense and intensely spiritual in tendency and practice. His language was rhythmic and steeped in refined euphony and in the spirit of his delivery he probed the apostle of the religion of love left among men."

"Taking the third verse of the twelfth chapter of St. John, he chose for his text the act of Mary who bathed the feet of Jesus with which she bathed the feet of the young man, and then dried them with that which the scripture has pronounced one of woman's glories, the golden locks of her head."
